

ALL HOPE IS NOT YET GONE

KUROKI PUZZLES THE ENEMY MUCH

Manner of Handling His Forces Provides a Great Source of Conjecture to the Russians Who Do Not Understand.

[Special by Scripps-Mellie.]

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The rainy season has begun in Manchuria. It is believed this will prove great assistance to the Russians as the roads are becoming heavy, and ditches filled with water. It is likely to cause sickness among the Japanese, who have to camp on wet roads, while marching.

Odessa, June 10.—Extreme measures are being taken to safeguard the various Russian arsenals and ships. All magazines and vessels are watched day and night and it would be hard with any strangers found prowling around them, as the orders to the guards are to "shoot first, and investigate afterward."

The exceptional measures are inspired by the fear that there will be a repetition of the recent deliberate attempts to wreck some of the warships in the navy yards. The attempts are believed to have been made by workmen who have been bribed by Japanese agents and as a result no workmen are now permitted to enter the yards or arsenals without a large number which they are compelled to wear in a conspicuous position to establish identity.

Will Turkey Dare?

London, June 10.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company telegraphs that the sultan has at last acceded to the demands of Russia and will permit part of her Black sea fleet to pass the Dardanelles.

According to the correspondent, the sultan last night sent for the Russian minister and informed him that no objection would be interposed to the dispatch of four ironclads and two cruisers through the straits. It is generally believed that the Russian authorities will construe the "four ironclads" as meaning four battleships, and will send the best four of the fleet with two first-class armored cruisers. The report has created a decided sensation here and may lead to complications.

Threatens Peace of Europe

If the report is true, the whole of Europe will be thrown into a turmoil. The treaty of Berlin will be violated by the act of the sultan and no party that treaty concedes Turkey the right to grant Russia a privilege expressly forbidden, without condition, by that treaty.

There will undoubtedly be protests made if there is any official acknowledgment made by the port of its intention to allow the Russian ships to pass the Dardanelles. It is more likely, however, that Turkey will say nothing and the powers will know officially only when their agents report the passage of the ships.

What will then be done is a mystery. That Great Britain will go as far as it can to prevent this refraction of the treaty is known, and in some quarters it is believed the admiralty will take steps to prevent the vessels leaving the Mediterranean, a thing that is within its physical power, to do.

Kuroki Worries Russians.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—Among the rumors that all the city is one on better authority than the average that Gen. Kuroki is himself moving southward from Liao-Yang. It is not possible authoritatively to confirm the report.

All Japanese movements are interpreted as caused by anxiety to hamper as much as possible whatever movement Gen. Kuroki may be making to help Port Arthur. Not only have the Japanese bombarded the west coast of the Liao-Tung peninsula, where the railroad runs close to the shore, making feints of debarkation, but Gen. Kuroki has assumed the offensive eastward. He sent an overpowering strong column that drove out the Russians from a fortified position at Salmatso, twenty miles north-west of Feng-Wang-Cheng, inflicting a loss of 100 men. The authorities say the Russian withdrawal was in accordance with Gen. Kuroki's prearranged plan, although the Russian losses indicated stubborn fighting.

Guess at Japanese Plans.

Critics profess to be not certain whether Gen. Kuroki's movement means a real advance or is simply a feint to distract Russian attention from Port Arthur, but they incline to the latter view.

Every one is short for official news of a serious attack on Port Arthur, which, it is felt, cannot be long delayed. In spite of the calm with which the authorities a month ago said that Port Arthur would probably fall or be abandoned in the course of the campaign, Russians find it hard, now that the event has become an imminent possibility, to assume an indifferent attitude toward the garrison fighting in isolation.

Sentiment Sways Muscovites.

The public is showing a sentimental interest in the retention of the fortress entirely independent of its real strategic value.

All the reports from unofficial sources at the seat of war mention the persistence of rumors of fighting on the Kwan-Tung peninsula and the war office does not question the probability of these reports, as it is known the Russians are doing all possible to impede the enemy's progress to positions before the walls of the fortress. At the same time they insist that no assault has yet been made on the fortress proper, although the war office advises as to the effect that the Japanese plans contemplated an attack.

No negotiations are taking place between Russia and Turkey concerning the passage of the Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles. The Turkish government has affirmed positively its intention to maintain neutrality and to observe strictly the obligations of the Berlin treaty.

pleared, however, that Andy has some things up his sleeve and it is said that the variety crew this year is rowing, not near the intercollegiate record, but considerably faster than is being done at any of the eastern rowing colleges. Coach O'Dea would surely love to spring a surprise to the west and to the whole country, by carrying off a victory that no one expected.

BAD FIRE THIS MORNING AT THE J. E. RANDALL HOME

Dwelling House Damaged to the Extent of About $100—Two Wagons Responded.

This morning at 5:55 a still alarm call was sounded at the west side fire station. Chief Klein and two men with the combination wagon from the west side station and the fire patrol wagon from the east side station were sent to the residence of J. E. Randall, two houses west of the Fifth brick yards on Pleasant street. The fire was confined to the first and second floors, and neighbors were busily engaged in fighting the flames until the arrival of the fire apparatus. A stream from the chemicals carried on the patrol wagon soon had the fire under control. The damage is estimated at about $100. It was a long run for the firemen, the distance being about two miles from the west side station.

SHERIFF M'WATTY MET A REVERSE

Dane County Sheriff's Bill for Deputies Is Refused Payment by Board.

[Special to The Gazette.] Madison, Wis., June 10.—Republican factionalism in Wisconsin received an exemplification of its intensity yesterday when the board of Dane county supervisors in session here refused to allow a small bill of Sheriff Robert W. M'Watty for $50 for the payment of services performed by a number of extra deputies sworn in during the convention of Deerfield, stalwart candidate for secretary of state, chairman of the claims committee, opposed the bill ostensibly on the ground that the statute making the sheriff's office a salaried position provided that the salary should cover all fees for all services, but on the real ground, which he afterward stated to a representative of the press, that there was absolutely no occasion for fear or apprehension of riot.

Chief of Police Baker repeatedly refused the application of Governor La Follette's managers to swear in extra police officers, saying that the existing police protection was adequate, and this opinion which proved correct, is quoted by Mr. Holman. Mr. Holman said that the late convention was to be "lamented." The sheriff's bill was laid over until a later meeting. The board consisting of 62 members, has a republican majority of two, but as a result of the division of the republicans William Fehlandt of Perry, a democrat, was elected chairman by a healthy majority.

KNOX TO BE SENATOR FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Attorney General of the United States Will Succeed to the Place Made Vacant by Quay's Death.

Philadelphia, June 10.—Phila. C. Knox of Pittsburgh, attorney general of the United States, has been selected to fill the seat in the United States senate made vacant by the death of Matthew Stanley Quay. He will accept and will serve by appointment of Gov. Pennypacker until March 4, the date of the expiration of the late senator's commission. Unless political complications should arise he will be elected for the full term by the legislature, which meets in January. It is expected that he will remain in the cabinet until December.

The selection came as a surprise to the politicians of the state. Directly after Senator Quay died Mr. Knox's name was among those mentioned for the vacancy, but little was heard of his candidacy. His name was not considered by Senator Penrose, who, with Israel W. Durham, the Philadelphia leader, had the naming of Quay's successor.

Wednesday afternoon, however, Henry C. Frick of Pittsburgh came to this city, and announced formally that the attorney general was a candidate. This caused considerable agitation in the Pittsburgh delegation, which already had named four men for the vacancy. However, after a series of conferences the Pittsburgh delegation accepted Mr. Knox, and the public announcement of the action soon followed.

SIMPLY A WAR ON UNIONISM

Citizens' Alliance Issues a Decree That Lays Bare the Objects of Its Organization.

LEAVE UNION OR THE DISTRICT

Edict to Workers in the Vicinity of Cripple Creek Demonstrates That Mine Operators Will Control

[Special by Scripps-Mellie.]

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 10.—A war of extermination has been declared against unionism by the Citizens' alliance, which sent a decree broadcast through the Cripple Creek Valley declaring that every person connected with a labor organization must renounce that allegiance or quit the valley forever. The edict of banishment issued by the vigilantes was strengthened by an act on the part of Gen. Bell in closing the Portland mine at Victor, a union working, on the ground that it employs and harbors "dangerous and lawless" men.

As the Portland Gold Mining company is an Iowa corporation the closing of its shafts by the military will be the means of reaching the federal courts with a test case contesting the right of Gov. Peabody to vest absolute power in the soldiers in the district declared under martial law.

President James F. Burns of the company and his attorneys are preparing an application for an injunction, asking a restraining order stopping further interference with the Portland mine by the military.

The Portland mine does not belong to the Mine Owners' association. Last August it conceded the demands of the union and since has given employment to about 500 unionists. The mine will be allowed to reopen only with men holding cards issued by the Mine Owners' association.

War on All Unions. The latest move on the part of the Citizens' alliance is the most drastic taken since it secured the upper hand in the district. The death grapple is to be taken not only on the Western Federation of Miners, but on every union in the camp, including those of the clerks, cooks and waiters, bar-tenders, carpenters, electricians, train-men and stone and brick masons. The unionists insist that they will fight the movement to a finish.

The plan of extermination took definite form when Tyson S. Dines, a Denver attorney, arrived and went into conference with the leaders of the alliance. A form is being prepared that will be presented to every business man, merchant and employer of labor in the district, pledging him not to employ any person affiliated with a union. No person who works for a living will be exempt, and the absolute annihilation of unionism in Teller county is predicted by the element now in power. The enforcement of the edict will affect 3,000 men and women belonging to the various unions in the gold camp.

As an earnest of what may be expected in the campaign to uproot unionism, the commission appointed by Gen. Bell reported a list of ninety-seven imprisoned union miners, with a recommendation that they be deported. The report was accepted and the military governor announced that the men would be sent over the foothills as soon as a special train could be secured. All men deported will be held on criminal charges.

Gen. Bell Closes Mine. Gen. Bell's proclamation closing the Portland mine follows:

DEER CLUB MAY DISLODGE DIETZ

Thornapple River Desperado Had Better Clear Out Before Janesville Men Reach Him Nov. 10.

At Dr. C. T. Pierce's residence last evening the "Janesville Deer Club" held a reunion and discussed plans for the fall campaign in the wilds of the north. Present were: H. L. Board of Ft. Atkinson, E. A. McPherson, Dr. R. L. Powell, Dr. R. W. Edden, Dr. R. J. Hart, Dr. George Cullenden. It was the unanimous verdict of the club that the expedition this year should be made to the home of Dietz the outlaw on Thornapple providing he shall not have been dislodged by the tenth of November. A copy of the resolution offering the services of the club at the time specified will be sent to the sheriff of Sawyer county, who has thus far been unable to find volunteers and has shown an indisposition to expose his own life for the peace and dignity of the state of Wisconsin. That last year's record of four deer will be broken this year is the fervent hope of every member. A most enjoyable evening was passed.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE PASSED AND GONE

SENIOR CLASS GRADUATES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

VERY IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES

Alumni Banquet Comes This Evening—Elaborate Entertaining Is Planned.

High school life is over for the class of 1904 and now in Janesville are thirty-seven young men and young women, some of whom will go away to school, some to work, some stay at home and some uncertain as yet. Each one has an ideal or some ambition which has been instilled in them—probably in the classroom, in their outside reading or in their daily school life. They are happy because each one has a future before them; some because they now leave not only the friends of the text books, though at times they have seemed hard, yet each pupil dearly loves them when the leave.

Commencement. Last night the program was that of commencement night and besides the regular presentation of the tokens, the valedictory address, the delivery of diplomas and the singing of the class song there were several theses, essays and an exposition of the far eastern question in two orations.

Radium. After the high school orchestra played the overture, Elsworth Kennedy gave a very timely thesis, illustrated with stereoscopic slides, on the subject Radium. The history of the discovery of and experiments with radio-active substances, especially uranium and the relation of radium to these substances, was given. The different theories of scientists as to the source of energy were explained and then the speaker gave a very conservative prophecy for the use and value of radium.

A Leading Motive. Etta Hollis delivered a well written, well prepared essay, entitled "A Leading Motive in the Life of Francis Willard." This motive was the brotherhood of men and the sisterhood of women which was proven by the events and incidents in Francis Willard's life.

The War. Something new in the way of graduating exercises was a double oration or debate on "The Exposition of the Far Eastern Question." Howard Greene in "The Russian Argument" gave a brief history of the Russian rise and expansion and how Russia was best fitted to protect the east and deserved the use of Manchuria and Korea. Frank Ehringer made a most able speech on the rapid rise and the excellent position that Japan holds among the civilized nations of the day.

Beatie Burch and the Octette. The singing of Miss Beatie Burch and the octette proved an excellent combination. The girls did not seem inclined to respond to the applause, but were finally brought out by the continued clapping of hands, and Miss Burch sang "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground" accompanied by the "ring, pang, pang" of the octette, which demonstrated the musical powers and the able leadership of Mrs. Hyde.

The Phonograph. "The Phonograph in Modern Business" by Rose McManus, who graduates from the commercial course, was interesting and the demonstration was enjoyed by all.

Miss Jones spoke on "Hull House," showing the need of the institution and the benefits the residents of Chicago receive from it.

Frank Hitchcock, who was to speak on "Something About Manual Training," was taken ill last week and was just able to be there to receive his diploma.

Miss Bates. The announcement that Ethel Bates would render a declamation entitled "Little Tyler," brought out great applause and was one of the most interesting of pieces of anything on the program of the whole graduation.

"Burns in Song" The essay on "Burns in Song" was particularly interesting as the speaker, Miss Alice Erickson, won the Mahoney medal for original poetry in 1902. It showed a clear insight in the nature of Burns and his songs. Again the octette appeared and again were received with applause and forced to return with an encore.

Token, Valedictory, Diplomas. The token that 1904 has left to "their dear old Janesville high school" was a beautiful picture of Amiens Gothic cathedral. The presentation speech was delivered by Calla Lacey and several times she referred to Ruskin and in her talk she told of Gothic architecture and the place Amiens held among edifices of the kind.

Class Gathered. The class then gathered on the platform and John O'Grady, the most finished manner expressed some very beautiful thoughts in behalf of the class he bid farewell to the schoolmates and the teachers, and thanked the board of education for the opportunity they had given the class.

The King of Italy Drinks Father Kneipp's Malt Coffee

—and it used in 21 other Royal Courts of Europe. A wonderful improvement any other cereal coffee you have ever tried. Ask your dealer for Kneipp Malt Coffee and you'll understand why thirty million pounds sold in Europe last year.

with their sheep-skins Harold Myers, who won the quarter mile in the interscholastic meet, was given a rousing cheer by the students.

Class Song. The class song, composed by Charlotte Mount, was sung by the whole class. It was well arranged and the hits were clever, but not harsh. The tunes were all up-to-date, the majority being taken from operas like the "Prince of Pilsen."

The curtain then went down with the class yelling: "Tigers! Tigers! Hear us roar! Seniors! Seniors! Nineteen-four! Tonight's Banquet!"

After the repast has been partaken of the following post prandial program will be listened to:

Overture ..... High School Orchestra

WILL DELIVER A FLAG DAY TALK

Hon. Ogden H. Fethers Has Been Chosen to Address the Colonial Dames of Milwaukee.

Hon. Ogden H. Fethers will deliver the Flag Day address before the Colonial Dames of Milwaukee at their annual banquet at the Athenaeum. This day has been made a semi-holiday through the efforts of the patriotic societies and for the last few years has been steadily growing in favor as a day full of sentiment to loyal Americans who love the glory of the stars and stripes and reverence the principals of patriotism, loyalty, freedom and protection for which it stands.

PLAN FOR GREAT GAME PARKS NOW

Illinois Game Wardens Do Not Spend All Funds on Political Maneuvers.

Near the limits of Beloit, but just over the line in Illinois, the big state game reservation which Game Warden A. J. Lovejoy is endeavoring to have established in that state, may be started. The hunters of Illinois have paid a surplus of over $50,000 in license to the state during the past few years and it is the plan of Mr. Lovejoy to have the state establish a game reservation with the money. If it is done, it is likely that it will be located in Winnebago county and near the Wisconsin line where timber land can be secured.

According to the statement of Mr. Lovejoy the state has secured about $100,000 during the past year from hunters throughout the state, while the expense did not aggregate half of that amount, so that $50,749.39 is left for a surplus toward purchasing a large tract of farm and timber land for the raising of quail, pheasant, partridges and other game birds and small game.

While at Springfield during the governorship deallock the game commissioner had consultations with numerous legislators in regard to his plan and has secured hearty approval from a number of the leaders. As the sportsmen have paid money into the fund, these senators and representatives say they think the state should help the game propagation in the state.

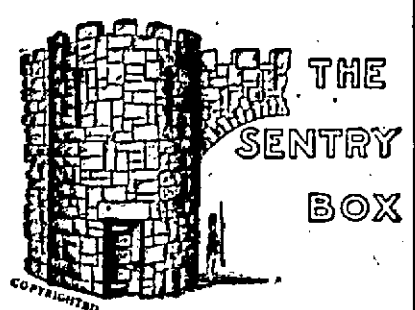

According to Commissioner Lovejoy's plan, the state will start its preserve and as the number of game birds and small game increases within its boundaries, farmers could come and secure these for the stocking of their farms with a view of giving sport for the farm and adding in the killing of bugs which are destructive to the crops. As the game fund surplus grows more land could be added and more work done along the line of propagation.

ENCAMPMENT OF THE GRAND ARMY

Veterans and Organizations Allied Will Journey to Madison Wednesday—Many Going from Here.

A large delegation from Janesville, numbering perhaps fifty or more, will attend the Grand Army encampment at Madison on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Civil war veterans, Sons of Veterans, and members of the Women's Relief Corps will gather there from all parts of the state and it is expected that not less than 3,000 will be present. The encampment will open at the Fuller opera house at nine o'clock Wednesday morning. Some representatives of the city government will welcome the visitors and some member appointed by State Department Commander J. P. Rindell will respond. The annual business meeting will follow. The reception tents and bureau of information will be established on the east side of the Capitol park. Capt. Charles Hudson of the Sons of Veterans and four aids will be in charge of the information bureau. A reception in the afternoon will be followed by band concerts and reunions, with a big campfire in the university gymnasium in the evening. Capt. Pily Norecross of Janesville and Prof. Duncan McGregor of Platteville, both candidates for the office of state department commander, Prof. J. W. T. Ames of River Falls, member of the Sons of Veterans, Mrs. Cora Platteville who was president of the W. R. C. last year, former Insurance Commissioner Philip Cheek of Baraboo, will be among the speakers and Col.

E. O. Kimberley of Janesville, the well known G. A. R. singer, and J. T. Hayes of Oregon, famed as a reader, will be among the entertainers. Past Department Commander A. H. DeGraff of Nelson will preside.

GOVERNMENT CRAFT—A REMEDY SUGGESTED.

The national government is required, by the necessities of good service to keep abreast of the times in recognizing and adopting valuable new mechanical devices in war and in peace, in public as well as in private life, competition obliges the use of the best facilities.

This is especially true in the postal service, a purely business institution, availing itself of innumerable mechanical contrivances to expedite its work. The head of this department must not be of the class who would slaughter a novel suggestion with the bludgeon of conservatism or dismiss an independent thought as pernicious activity. If the postal service is to comply with the public demand for celerity and efficiency, it must use the latest inventions and improvements applicable to its varied activities. It can only do this by promptly utilizing patented articles and, therefore, under present conditions, finds itself, to a certain extent, at the mercy of patentees and manufacturers.

It is, The Sentry believes, a significant fact that in nearly every case the alleged criminal practices in the Post Office Department, for which many indictments have been found and some convictions had, occur in the purchase of articles covered by patents, to which the general principle of purchasing government supplies and competitive bids, cannot be applied, since there can be no competition. The corruption largely consisted in paying exorbitant prices to the manufacturers of these necessary patented devices through collusion with subordinate officials of the Department who, it is alleged, were induced to pay these extravagant prices by heavy bribes.

The law requires ordinary supplies and commodities used by the department to be purchased on contracts with the lowest bidder after competition open to all who make or sell these articles. But as only one concern can make or sell a patented device, the Controller of the Treasury was forced to decide as early as 1896 that the patented articles be purchased on contract. The making of contracts for the purchase of patented or copyrighted articles where the benefit of competition cannot be secured. Among the certificates for expenditures of money specifically referred to in the decision and especially covered thereby, are postal straps for the use of letter carriers; time clocks; attachments for street letter boxes, and time cards for street letter boxes. Strangely enough each one of these enumerated devices was subject of a separate and special scandal developed in the postal investigation in 1903.

All such purchases are of an emergency character. There can be no bids or contracts, and the Post Office authorities are the sole judges of prices to be paid and quantities obtained. This fact throws an enormous responsibility on several subordinate employees of the Department, and opens a wide field of temptation and opportunity for collusion with unscrupulous patentees for mutual profit. In practical operation, it is found that this condition has opened the door for alarming instances of bribery and corruption.

One remedy which has been sought by the Department and authorized by Congress to take effect July 1, 1904, is the employment of a high salaried purchasing agent for the entire service, who shall give heavy bonds and be responsible directly to the Postmaster General. Another remedy which occurs to The Sentry, and which would apply equally to all other departments of the government, to the great relief of each and with doubtless an enormous aggregate saving in money, each year, is this: Amend the patent laws so as to provide, when any branch of the government departments desires to use a patented article in the public service, some just method of deciding on the value thereof, based on the cost of manufacture, a reasonable profit or a fair royalty; then fix that as the price to be paid therefor. The manufacturers would, doubtless in all cases, be willing to accept the price thus established. The value of any motive for offering bribes to any official for approving or buying and the several departments would secure the desired improvements at a minimum cost.

The whole value of an invention to an investor consists in the monopoly given to him by the government through its patent laws. It is surely permissible, the entry believes, that the nation should protect itself against extortion under cover of its own benefactions. If the manufacturer should refuse to accept the price thus established, provision could then be made for invalidating the patent as to articles required for the government use and they could be contracted for in the open market without regard to the patent.

There would seem to be in this suggestion an inviting field for practical investigation and action by some practical congressman anxious to do something for the public good. Some pretentious statement of past eras are now memorable only as industrious contributors to committee-room pigeon holes. This field of practical utility is respectfully commended by The Sentry to such public servants as desire to avoid that kind of distinction.

IT WILL BE ONE BIG CELEBRATION

JANESVILLE HAS DONNED ITS FIGHTING CLOTHES.

WILL BE LONG REMEMBERED

No Half Way Jubilee, But a Genuine Old Fashioned Fourth of July.

There is nothing like enthusiasm to wake the people of Janesville up for a celebration. When the glorious Fourth is ushered in by the usual salute of fire crackers and other delights of the small boy Janesville will wake to a full-fledged celebration. It will be no half way one but a display that the American eagle, soaring on high, can look down upon and enjoy. Janesville has always been noted for its good times when it celebrated but the present jubilee from all appearances will eclipse any previous efforts. The citizens have rallied nobly to the call for subscriptions and from all over the county there promises to be a pilgrimage towards the flower city that will remind the early settlers of the merry days of long ago. Nothing will be spared to make the day a success and there will be enough hands on hand to furnish all the music that can possibly be asked for. They are coming from all over and the music they will play will remind everyone that the Fourth is here.

Parades and Exhibits. There will be two grand parades—no half-way ones, but grand ones in every sense of the word, a civic one in the morning and the famous Nona Such Brothers circus parade in the afternoon. Two such events in one day are enough to bring spectators from miles around and doubtless every road leading to Janesville will be crowded from early morning with people who appreciate the treat that will be in store for them when they arrive in the city. Everyone is coming.

Hard Work. The committees having charge of the work are working hard and report that the celebration in every detail will be a good one. The band committee is busy today making its selections of bands from throughout the state so that the best of everything is to be had.

Go to Chicago. This morning Mr. Charles Putnam and Geo. Simpson went to Chicago to look up several attractions for the Fourth. They expect to secure some entirely new features.

WIS. TELEPHONE CO. TO IMPROVE SYSTEM

New Switchboards Are Being Put in at Several Exchanges, and Janesville Is to Have One Soon.

Alonso Burt of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. is authority for the statement that $500,000 is to be spent in improving the service. A toll line from Milwaukee to Ashland which places the first named city in communication with all the intermediate towns along the line of the Wisconsin Central R'y., and likewise the towns on the Gogebic range, has recently been completed. Plans for underground wires in the business district of Green Bay, an exchange building there, with a new switch board that obviates the necessity of ringing the bell to call numbers, are also being prepared. One of these new switchboards is being put in at Marinette, and another at Fond du Lac, and Manager Gallon is authority for the statement that Janesville will have one within the next twelve months. Toll lines from Sparta to Rosobel, Manitowoc to Kaukauna, Madison to Portage, and Fond du Lac to Shelbygan.

Men at the New Doty Works Will Tender Today's Wages to the Widow of Henry Cantwell.

Acting on the noble resolve to lend a helping hand to the widow and five small children left destitute by the untimely death of Henry Cantwell who was killed in the St. Paul yards, the forty or more employees of the New Doty works will donate today's wages to the family. The sum realized will be a goodly one and the benefit will be appreciated. Mr. Cantwell was employed as a helper at the New Doty works and was very popular with his fellow workmen. The funeral services are to be held from St. Patrick's church Friday morning, at 9:15 o'clock. Interment will be at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

News for the Railroad Men.

Engineer A. R. Gridley and Fireman J. J. Russell left this morning on a fishing expedition to Indian Ford.

General Foreman Thomas Erickson spent yesterday at Harvard on business.

Engineer A. L. Tallmadge has returned from his trip to California, where he has been attending an engineer's convention.

Engineer James Alexander on the Rockford-Waterloo passenger run, is off duty for a few days.

Work on five additional engine stalls to the roundhouse of the North-Western road in the third ward, Milwaukee, has begun. The improvement will be finished in six weeks and it will cost $25,000.

H. J. Slifer, general superintendent of the Rock Island road, will arrive in Milwaukee next week with his wife in his private car to attend the graduating exercises at Milwaukee-Dowdner college.

Frank L. Eason, formerly general agent of the Omaha road at West Superior, has been appointed commercial agent of that road at St. Paul.

Consolidation of the Western, Transcontinental, and Southwestern Passenger associations is planned by the executive officers of the western and southwestern roads. It is asserted that it costs too much to maintain three organizations in the west, and the work of all easily could be done by one association at the present cost of one. The expenses have more than doubled during the last two or three years, and are continually growing. The executive officers have concluded that thousands of dollars can be saved by consolidating.

Returns from sixteen roads in the General Managers' association of Chicago, having a trackage of 35,920 miles and employing 244,835 men, report a net reduction of 6,742 in their forces, compared with the figures of June 30, 1903, or a little less than 3 per cent. Of the roads five reported no reductions, three decreases, five no material changes, and three slight increases. If a like percentage of reduction prevails among other roads of the association the total reduction would amount to about 11,000. Between 1899 and 1903 the number of employees of the Chicago roads increased 53 per cent, while their compensation increased 69.5 per cent.

The Chicago & North-Western yesterday gave notice that parlor cars are now in service between Chicago and Green Lake, by way of Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, and Ripon, on trains Nos. 9 and 10 daily except Sunday.

A QUEER YACHT ON LAKE GENEVA

Sailboat Equipped with Engine and Oar Locks for Actual Service.

Janesville people who have been at Lake Geneva this spring looking up their summer homes report that a new and strange craft has been launched on the placid waters of that lake. S. I. Murphy, Jr., of Green Bay, Wis., has just launched a queer looking boat in Geneva lake. The craft is a cat-rigged sailboat, but is equipped with a gasoline engine and two pairs of row locks. Mr. Murphy says that he has been becalmed so many times and has been caught away from home so often and compelled to foot it to some railway station, that he concluded to plan against such emergencies, and the boat he has brought from Green Bay is the result. The yacht is called Yvonne and has figured in many racing events on Winnebago lake.

Dr. Kunzman to Preach Sermon at the Dedication of the New St. Peters Church.

On Sunday, June 12, the former First M. E. church on South Jackson St. will be re-dedicated to the St. Peters English Evangelical Lutheran church.

At that time Rev. Dr. Kunzman, D. D., of Greensburg, Pa., will preach the dedication sermon.

The English Lutheran work in this city has been wonderfully blessed as it is little more than a year ago since this church was organized and they are now in possession of a church home, and with a resident pastor to conduct the work there is no doubt but that the work will be successfully carried on.

The members of the church are very happy in possessing a church home and bids at a hearty welcome to all their services.

THE LOCAL MARKET REMAINS QUIET

Strawberries Sold Yesterday Four for 25—Warm Weather Makes Low Figures.

There was not a move in market circles yesterday, and the figures this morning are the same as yesterday. One noticeable feature of the day was that strawberries yesterday were sold at the remarkable price of four boxes for 25 cents, and the fruit was good too. When June comes and berries are offered at this figure it shows that the crop is being sold at a price that leaves nothing for the man who grows the fruit. The berries sold during the day were of the best, and the indications are that many more seasons will pass before the same quality will be offered at the figures named. This has been a remarkable season, cold at home and exceedingly warm in the south, which makes the fruit come to the cold market at a price never before heard of. It has come down to climatic conditions now, and the irregularity of the seasons makes a considerable difference.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, June 10, 1864.—The following is the curious history of a Rhode Island soldier: He came home from Cuba, to enlist, joined one of the Rhode Island batteries was sent to do garrison duty in North Carolina, thought his duty too slow, said he had enlisted for the sake of fighting and he must fight, deserted and joined a New York infantry regiment, was sent into the Gettysburg campaign, fought in several battles, was wounded, furloughed, and came home to be arrested as a deserter.

The Cleveland Leader of the 2nd inst. gives an account of an attempted escape of rebel prisoners on Johnson's Island. They had made an excavation from underneath the cook room floor to the wall of the prison, and had also made and got together the various articles necessary to aid them in effecting their escape. The discovery of the plot was effected through hints thrown out by one of the prisoners, that there was mischief brewing. The foiled rebels were so incensed at their indiscreet companion

Round Trip Excursion Tickets to St. Paul and Minneapolis

Via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway June 1 to September 30

Ringling Brothers' Circus

The most imposing wonder of amusement growth today is the circus. The greatest development of the idea is due to Ringling Brothers. Today it takes 85 cars to transport their enormous enterprise. The tents alone cover 10 acres of ground space, and the largest canvas will comfortably seat 12,000 people. In the menagerie tent are sheltered 40 elephants and 108 cages, dens and lairs. A baby elephant, American born, and a half old, is the priceless pet of this department. Six hundred and seventy-five horses are carried, and the men, women and children employed aggregate 1,250. To move this stupendous institution each day without delay or confusion indicates a most wonderful system. Military chiefs at home and from other countries have studied and lauded the wonderful discipline that pervades the Ringling Brothers' shows and pronounced it the best governed amusement institution in the world.

In order to correctly round out the picture, the characters, costumes, accessories and scenery portray in Ringling Brothers' unequalled production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, the costliest piece ever constructed is shown in the church settings. This organ is one of extraordinary volume and richness of tone, and excels instruments of a similar kind found in the famous old cathedrals of Europe. Accompanied by the instrument, a grand chorus of 200 specially selected voices rise with wonderfully sweet harmony the vast canvas amphitheater, capable of comfortably seating twenty thousand people.

The horse fair with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest shows embraces 650 specimens of the finest breeding, and is the most valuable collection ever brought together for exhibitional purposes. No other circus ever owned one-half as many. The fleet trotter, fierce racer, graceful saddler, aristocratic driver, sturdy Porcheron, Arabian stallion, Kentucky thoroughbred, English cob, stylish coach and pert pony are in this famous exhibition.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

The semi-centennial jubilee of the state university has again brought that institution prominently before the people. Strength of character as well as some weaknesses have been emphasized and at least one danger, which threatens, pointed out.

This danger was suggested by Judge John D. Parkerson of Kansas, who graduated from the university 38 years ago, and who has been absent from the state for a quarter of a century or more. He speaks from an unprejudiced standpoint, and has no special interest in the factional fight which has been in progress for the past four years. His criticism follows:

"There is altogether too much politics in the University of Wisconsin, too evident a design, seemingly in several sources, to make the university a political agent for the furthering of personal ambitions and ideas.

"This is the great danger which is facing the educational institution of Wisconsin today, a danger which, unless speedily recognized, and remedied, means the beginning of decay for the university and its decline from the high position it has obtained until it is one of the first universities in the United States, as it is now undoubtedly. It takes its place among those which have become wrecks through the abandonment of high ideals of scholarship or through political manipulation.

The Milwaukee News in commenting says:

"Politics is everywhere evident in the affairs of the university. Not politics in its broad sense, but petty, mean, factional, personal politics, it permeates the teaching force of the university and is rampant in the student body. Responsibility for this condition of affairs rests upon Gov. Robert M. La Follette. He is the man that has debauched the university to his political ends. He has encouraged the hijacking of factional politics in the university. Students, and even some professors, have been marshaled to his support in caucus and convention. They have formed the La Follette guard, to cheer their idol or to shout down opponents. At the gymnasium, convention students from the university packed the galleries to act as a La Follette clique, and the 'strong-arm' men that were placed upon guard at the convention hall entrance to restrain opposition delegates from taking their seats were recruited largely from the football, athlete contingent.

If the university is not to be dragged down from its high estate it must be divorced from the low politics with which it has been debauched. Such an institution can not exist as an adjunct to a political machine and command liberal support of the taxpayers of the state.

There is so much truth in these criticisms that it has been the talk of the state. One man in attendance at the late convention said, 'I intended to send my boy to the university next fall, but after what I have seen here today, I would never consent to place him under such influence.' There are other tax payers who express the same sentiment.

It will be well for the university boys to take into life a knowledge of politics and political parties, but it is as demoralizing to instruct them in the methods of La Folletteism, as it was in the fanatical theories of Bryanism.

Complaint is made that the manufacturers who have gone to great expense in their exhibits at the world's fair have placed these exhibits in the hands of incompetent employees, who treat the public as though a favor was being conferred by showing any attention. This is poor policy, and unless corrected will defeat the object sought.

FREE TRADE.

The Free Trade League of Boston held a convention last week, and recommended the following plank to the St. Louis convention:

"The Democratic party favors the total and immediate abolition of every tariff duty, and the introduction of absolutely unrestricted freedom of trade with the nations of the world."

This league represents the extreme wing of the party on the tariff question. A small faction, as compared with the free silver contingency, but large enough to advance and defend a heresy which if adopted, would complete the ruin of the democratic party.

The platform, prepared for Judge Parker, by the conservative wing of the party, had but little to say about free trade, or tariff reform. The fact was recognized that public sentiment is not in a mood to be trifled with, and the experiences of the Cleveland administration are not forgotten.

The tariff will be revised, when conditions demand, but it will be revised by the republican party. With the Free Trade League at one end of the line, and Bryan at the other, the democratic party is between the devil and the sea.

RUBBER INDUSTRY.

Imports of India rubber into the United States in the fiscal year about to end will exceed by far those of any earlier year and will amount to over 40 million dollars in value. The demand for this article of exclusively foreign production for use in manufacturing has increased very rapidly in recent years, and the imports in the present fiscal year, as shown by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, will amount to about 60 million pounds, valued, as already indicated, at fully 40 million dollars. This rapid increase is apparently due, in a large degree, to the increasing use of this material for tires of vehicles of various classes, though in other lines of manufacture the demand is also very great.

The rapid growth in the use of this article of manufacture in the United States is illustrated in the fact that the total value of India rubber and gutta-percha imported in 1870 was less than 3 1/2 million dollars, in 1880 9 1/2 millions, in 1890 15 millions, in 1900 31 millions and in 1901 will be fully 40 millions. The increase in quantity has not been quite so rapid as the increase in value, owing to the fact that prices have advanced materially by reason of the greatly increased demand of the various manufacturing sections of the world, especially the United States.

In 1880 the quantity of rubber imported into the United States amounted to 17 million pounds valued at 9 1/2 million dollars, making the average price about 55 cents per pound. In 1890 the quantity imported was 31 million pounds valued at 15 million dollars, or slightly less than 50 cents per pound. In 1900 the quantity imported was 49 million pounds valued at 31 million dollars, or about 63 cents per pound; while in 1901 the record of the 10 months for which figures are now available shows an average value for rubber imported of 68 cents per pound. In addition to this, however, large quantities of material utilized in conjunction with India rubber are now imported.

There is less noise and bluster than during the pre-convention campaign and more time is devoted to sober thought. The republican party is "up against" a serious proposition, and the fact is generally recognized. More republican and less individualism will result.

There will be no excuse for any republican in the state voting the democratic ticket this year. He can have his choice of tickets branded republican, and if prejudice yields to judgment he will have the pleasure of helping the party to combine in control.

MEMBER OF OLD IRON BRIGADE

Spent the Night in Janesville Lock-Up—Andrew Carlson of Burlington, Tells Sad Story.

Andrew Carlson of Burlington who fought with the Iron Brigade in the Civil war spent the night in the Janesville lock-up. Mr. Carlson's story is a sad one. A few weeks ago his son was taken critically ill in Minneapolis and the father who is now almost totally blind as the result of a bullet wound received in the war, hastened to his bedside. The boy died and the father was compelled to spend the little money he had with him to pay for funeral expenses. Then he started back to his Wisconsin home and was compelled to call on the authorities for aid at various stopping places. He was sent to Janesville from Madison and Poor Commissioner Kenyon secured a railroad ticket for him to Burlington this morning. "This is the second time I have ever been in jail," he said this morning. "The last time was forty-one days of terrible suffering in Andersonville during the war." The aged man has a daughter living in Burlington. He was visited this morning by several members of the local G. A. R. post.

MYSTIC WORKERS END THE SESSION

GREAT GATHERING CLOSED LATE LAST EVENING.

MUCH WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Members Are Pleased with Janesville and the Treatment They Received.

The last moments of a battle are the moments of decision. The last hours of the biennial mystic session were surcharged with deed of material society importance. The committee upon laws had arisen and appeared upon the floor with their roll of manuscript, not unlike the great budget of congress. The typewritten folds contained the life spring of the organization and were not to be treated lightly, and were not. The watch dogs were present and challenged with forceful argument each and every measure presented. And while the majority of the laws were accepted to others the time light had directed. In the supreme body had come lawyers of keen ability, men of intellect and of forensic power. They were the men of the hour and right valiantly did they contest and construct. The laws as now accepted must bring further success to the society for as reconstructed, they are the embodiment of all that is recognized as good among all of the great organizations of similar character.

Final Report.
The final reports of the committees were heard. A committee consisting of the supreme officers presented a distinct resolution asking that an appropriation be made from the general funds of the order for a mystic assembly room in the Temple of Fraternity at St. Louis. The resolution was accepted and Wisconsin visitors to the World's Fair will find a cordial welcome at the fraternity headquarters, with some selected and well known mystic in attendance. There has been talk of making Editor Adams the custodian of mystic welcome at St. Louis and possibly no man within the order has a more extended acquaintance and he has the interest of all at heart.

At Fulton.
At Fulton, Illinois, the society owns a beautiful plot of land. This was acquired some years ago with the purpose in mind of erecting thereon at sometime a mystic building of worth. The society has not reached financially that point where it has been justified in the expenditure of $25,000 for a home. It was voted at the supreme session to levy a special assessment of ten cents per member for the coming eight months, a tithe of love, and it has been figured that this will create $30,000, a sufficient sum to build in accordance with ideas. Eighty cents a member into a home that will for years stand a marker to fraternal enterprise and society love.

Through all the struggling days of the infant mystic there stood shoulder to shoulder in the work Past Master Howe and Supreme Secretary Jackson. Two years ago Mr. Howe was retired and ever since there has been a sense of a void in the workings. The last act of the session was the election of a seventh man to the board of directors, an increase of one to that branch. With unanimous voice Mr. Howe was elected and again in harness the veteran promises to raise even higher the society standard. His selection is fitting.

Following the general report of the resolution committee who gave expressed regard for the kindly attention of the Janesville mayor and his constituents, the local press and the members of the resident lodge, the past head officer on behalf of the sitting delegates made valuable and most handsome gifts to Mr. and Mrs. C. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lynch and J. W. Boyes, a quintette of Janesville workers who had made the delegates' stay both pleasurable and memorable.

With the installation of the newly elected officers the business sessions rested, and the gavel of the supreme master fell to rise in 1906 at Peoria, Illinois.

MAKING LISTS OF MANY DELEGATES

Sergeant-at-Arms of the National Republican Convention Has His Hands Full.

In the office of Secretary Dover of the republican national committee at the Coliseum, Chicago, the work was begun of making up the roll call of delegates for the temporary organization of the convention. Sergeant at Arms Stone signed and forwarded commissions as assistants to appointees in the different states. The commissions, with their gold seals and their engravings, look like the authorizations of a militia major general. Maj. John M. Carson, who is the chairman of the press committee of the Washington correspondents' organization, is busy with the matter of convention seats for the newspaper men. The work of decorating the big convention hall is under way and will be finished a week ahead of the opening. Members of the Chicago committee which made its pledge of funds to the national committee at Washington when Chicago was chosen for the convention site are raising money for the usual course of the sale of the spectators' seats. It is said, are selling as high as $50 each, and there are scores of seats for sale at a fairly easy figure, though if spectators get hold of them there may be a sudden soaring of prices.

$20.00 Reward

For information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who entered my residence in December, 1903. E. S. Williams.

NO GRASS GROWS IN PARADE'S PATH

None Such Brothers Are Making Things Hum, and Indications Point to a Glorious Fourth.

The second advertising car of the None Such Brothers' circus arrived in the city early this morning. It was met at the depot by George M. McKey, president of this famous organization and the work of the distribution of the work began at once. The None Such Brothers are hustlers and have let no grass grow under their feet since they decided to appear here on July 4th. In addition to the old attractions they promise many new ones and original features never before seen on the streets of Janesville. It will be unique and pleasing and the only thing left to do is for the citizens to pitch in and help make the success of the day one long to be remembered. All those persons who take part in the parade are asked to notify Mr. McKey at once and meet in the business office of the Gazette Saturday evening when plans and means will be discussed.

MADISON SENDS WANDERERS HERE

Chief of Police of the Capital City Starts Tramps on Their Way to Janesville.

Is Madison trying to palm off all the persons who infest the Capital city and they do not want upon Janesville. First came the young lady who thought Janesville furnished a good brand of liquor and now comes word that a man named John Hartsock who is alleged to be a professional beggar with a mysterious ailment was shipped to Janesville from Madison last night by the chief of police with the warning to leave Madison off his calling list in the future. An old soldier named Alma Carson of Burlington was also sent to Janesville by the Madison authorities so that he might reach his home. He is blind and penniless, having spent his last cent to bury an only son. He was on his way home from Logansport, Indiana, and went to Madison instead of leaving the train at Janesville.

A MADISON GIRL IN STOCKING FEET

Carrying Her French High-Heeled Shoes in Her Hands, Was Apprehended by Officers Last Evening.

Wandering along South Main St. in her stocking-feet, with her high heeled shoes in her hand, a finely dressed and handsome young woman from Madison, about twenty-one years of age, was apprehended by the officers last evening. She refused to reveal her identity but confessed that she had been having a grand old time and that the liquor dispensed in Janesville was of the right quality. The effect of the latter was noticeable, though it was the shoes that first attracted the attention of the officers. She said she had taken them off because they hurt her feet. Just why she stopped off here instead of going to Chicago which had been her destination she was unable to explain. The officers committed her to the lock-up over night and released her early this morning on promise that she would leave the city at once and be more circumspect in her conduct henceforth.
